The Falling Plates Rack consists of Six Metal Plates, approximately 8 inches in diameter. The Game requires every participant to shoot as many plates as possible in a specific time frame, which depends on the distance and firearm used, as follows:

Falling Plates – Pistol is shot from 10, 15, 20 and 25 yards and the times are 6, 7, 8 and 9 seconds respectively.

Only .22 Rimfire (Long Rifle, Long or Short) are allowed. No other caliber or any Magnums are permitted.

Course of Fire: the competitor shall load only 6 (six) rounds, and will shoot within the mentioned time slots. A timer is used to establish the shooting periods. Every participant will be called to the shooting lane, at which, said participant will arrive with two magazines or speed loaders, with no more than 6 (six) rounds on each, and will load the firearm when directed to do so by the Match Director. Two strings of 6 (six) shots will take place. There are no alibis whatsoever if the firearm won't shoot. Only fell plates will count as 1 (one) point each, towards the maximum possible of 48 points.
